Boarding Policies & Important Information

At The Dog Camp, the safety, comfort, and well-being of every dog in our care is our priority. To help provide a safe environment for all of our campers, the following policies apply to all boarding reservations:

Vaccinations & Health Requirements

All dogs must be current on required vaccinations, including Rabies, DHPP/DAPP, and Bordetella (every 6 months). Proof of vaccination may be required prior to check-in. Dogs showing signs of contagious illness, including coughing, vomiting, diarrhea, unusual discharge, or other symptoms, may not be accepted for boarding.

Health & Illness

While we take reasonable precautions to maintain a clean and safe environment, boarding and group environments may expose dogs to illnesses or conditions that can occur even among vaccinated dogs. The Dog Camp cannot guarantee that a dog will not become ill during or following their stay.

Behavior & Temperament

Owners must disclose any known history of aggression, biting, resource guarding, escape behavior, anxiety, or other behavioral concerns prior to boarding. The Dog Camp reserves the right to modify a dog's activities, separate a dog from group play, or discontinue services if we believe the dog presents a safety concern to themselves, another dog, or a staff member.

Group Play & Normal Risks

Dogs participating in daycare, group play, enrichment activities, walks, hikes, or other activities may experience normal risks associated with physical activity and interaction with other dogs. These may include minor scratches, scrapes, sore muscles, broken nails, or other incidental injuries.

Outdoor & Adventure Activities

Dogs participating in walks, hikes, outdoor enrichment, or other adventure activities may encounter natural outdoor conditions including dirt, mud, water, insects, plants, uneven terrain, weather changes, and wildlife. Participation may be modified or canceled when conditions are considered unsafe.

Emergency Veterinary Care

If a dog becomes ill or injured while in our care, The Dog Camp will make reasonable efforts to contact the owner or authorized emergency contact. When immediate treatment is reasonably necessary and the owner cannot be reached, the owner authorizes The Dog Camp to seek veterinary care on the dog's behalf. Veterinary and related expenses remain the responsibility of the pet owner, subject to the terms of the signed boarding agreement.

Medications & Special Care

All medications must be provided in their original labeled containers with clear written instructions. Owners are responsible for providing accurate information regarding medications, allergies, medical conditions, dietary restrictions, and special care requirements.

Food & Personal Belongings

Owners are encouraged to provide clearly labeled food and approved belongings. Feel free to bring a small bed or favorite blanket so help your buddy feel more at home. The Dog Camp is not responsible for normal wear, damage, or loss of personal items such as bedding, toys, leashes, or collars. Please leave your bowls at home as we will provide at camp.

Reservations, Cancellations & Late Pickups

Reservations are subject to availability and our current deposit and cancellation policies. Additional charges may apply for late pickups, additional nights, or services requested during a dog's stay.

Accurate Information

Pet owners are responsible for providing complete and accurate information regarding their dog's health, vaccination status, temperament, behavioral history, medications, and care needs.

Agreement Required

Boarding services are subject to The Dog Camp's current policies and require completion of our Boarding Agreement and Liability Waiver before services are provided. Website information is intended as a general summary and does not replace the terms of the signed agreement.

Every dog is different. The Dog Camp reserves the right to adjust activities, playgroups, enrichment, feeding schedules, or other aspects of a dog's stay when reasonably necessary for the safety and well-being of the dog, other campers, and our team.
